WITH OUR GREATEST GRATITUDE

Dear friends, partners and colleagues,

Be an Angel e.V. Germany and Friends of Be an Angel USA thanks you for your donations to the Ukrainian people during these difficult times.

Be an Angel e.V. was established in 2015 with the headquarters in Germany to provide support and assistance to refugees from conflict and war zones. The organization evacuated and provided humanitarian aid and on the ground assistance to refugees from Syria, Afghanistan, Iran, Iraq, and now Ukraine. Friends of Be an Angel USA's focus is solely evacuation of refugees from Ukraine to the EU countries and delivery of the humanitarian aid to Ukraine from North America and Europe. In Ukraine, we closely work and cooperate with other NGOs, community representatives, hospitals, pharmacies, mothers of children with disabilities, local social services, and religious organizations.

THE SITUATION IN UKRAINE

The Russian Federation's full-scale invasion of Ukraine and subsequent war represents a serious violation of Ukraine's sovereignty, independence, unity, and territorial integrity, as well as a breach of the UN Charter. This aggression has resulted in numerous breaches of international humanitarian and human rights laws. Moreover, it triggered the largest displacement and refugee crisis in Europe since 1945 and presented a significant contemporary challenge to global peace, with far-reaching consequences in both regional and worldwide contexts.

From February 24, 2022, to February 24, 2023, the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) documented 21,293 civilian casualties, including 4,457 women and 1,441 children killed or injured. However, the actual figures are likely much higher, as obtaining accurate information from conflict zones and areas of intense hostilities remains challenging, and many reports are still awaiting confirmation. The extensive destruction of urban areas and civilian infrastructure has rendered life unbearable for millions of people and severely disrupted essential services. Presently, at least 17.6 million individuals require humanitarian assistance, with over 13.5 million people, representing more than a quarter of the population, having been displaced from their homes. Of these, more than 8.1 million remain as refugees in neighboring countries, while 5.35 million are internally displaced within Ukraine.

In order to alleviate the grave circumstances for the civilian population, Friends of Be an Angel and our sister organization Be an Angel e.V. has taken on the challenging task of providing humanitarian aid to community centers, refugee camps, points of invincibility, hospitals, medical centers and internally displaced person (IDP) camps. The missile attacks by the Russian Armed Forces has left a wake of destruction of critical civilian infrastructure such as hospitals, power stations and water treatment plants. To add further complexity to the situation, roads and primary transportation routes in many parts of the country are still mined, under occupation or under attack, making the logistics situation for humanitarian aid deliveries either too dangerous or extremely risky.

To navigate these extremely dangerous scenarios, Friends of Be an Angel works together with the NGO Women's Movement for the Future, which is a nation-wide organization consisting of tens of thousands of volunteers and dozens of local charities. Lead by former MP and current Representative of Children, Youth and Family to the Ombudsman's Office of Human Rights, Iryna Suslova, together we operate a humanitarian aid distribution hub in L'viv, Ukraine. Friends of Be an Angel focuses on acquisition and transportation of humanitarian supplies from the United States or European Union into Ukraine, while our partner organization Women's Movement for the Future focuses on the distribution and logistics within Ukraine.

Through this partnership, we are able to quickly identify critical areas of need and have made the decision to focus our humanitarian efforts on four focus areas. The first and primary focus area is on care packages for IDPs and other particularly vulnerable members of the civilian population.

This network allows us access to the most dangerous stretches of the frontline and provides us with valuable insight on critical need locations, on ground situations, safety recommends and points of contact. Our network stretches to virtually every hospital, community center and refugee center in the unoccupied zones.

HUMANITARIAN AID PROCESS

CHAIN OF CUSTODY (COC)

COC permanently captures data related to who/how handled the collection of humanitarian aid, what action were performed, and the location/date of the actions from the start of procurement process through the distribution of the generators directly to the end users at the frontlines of Ukraine, as well as the impact of delivery of the aid.

1. Needs Assessment and Analysis and Strategic Response Planning

The first step in the humanitarian aid distribution process is to identify current and immediate need for medical, infrastructure and relief supplies throughout the territories we cover. We focus on hot zones, frontlines, and the areas in most dire situations. Inquiries are sent out to hundreds of hospitals, community and refugee centers as well as to other various locations to compile a list of their needs. Based on their documented, verified, and official requests received, there is a prioritization process to ensure the decisions of where the aid is sent are fair, diversified, and that the appropriate priorities are given to the most critical locations.

2. Sorting and Categorization of Incoming and Outgoing Aid Shipments

Once a shipment arrives, it is categorized and sorted in the warehouse depending on the type and storage requirements. Outgoing shipments are then prepared depending on the needs identified in the first step of the process.

3. Distribution Implementation and Monitoring

Once outgoing shipments are carefully sorted, packed, and wrapped in plastic for extra waterproofing, they are loaded onto vans or trucks and transported directly to the end users. For certain locations and when appropriate, Nova Poshta (postal services) is used. About 400 parcels and two to three transports leave the warehouse daily.

4. Documentation, Operational Review, and Evaluation

The documentation process is conducted throughout all stages. Signatures, documents, photographic evidence and lists are compiled in the form of bills of lading, customs documents for import/export, inventory protocols and acceptance with the receiving parties. These are stamped and signed by distributors and recipients and stored safely and appropriately in accordance with international and Ukrainian laws. Together with photographs/videos of the humanitarian aid arrival, storage, and delivery, these documents serve as proof of COC and distribution.

HUMANITARIAN AID DISTRIBUTION

The Ukrainian healthcare system was not prepared for a full-scale invasion. Most hospitals are working with equipment dating back to the Soviet era. According to reliable sources, hospitals at the front may receive more than 100 injured patients a day. Doctors are forced to operate with limited supplies and resources despite constant bombings and shelling with equipment that is not always reliable. Hospitals in western Ukraine, although not being shelled, are experiencing a huge influx of refugees from the east with chronic conditions, pregnant women, and children who have survived the bombings. Many soldiers and civilian casualties who have been stabilized but need further care have been transferred to the west. Many hospitals throughout the country are filled in excess of capacity. Conflict adjacent communities are healthcare “deserts,” and are in continuously dire need of even the most basic medical supplies. Shipments such as these are important for supplying frontline and conflict-adjacent hospitals, clinics, physicians and first-responders with the basic and most critical needs necessary to address this ongoing and enormous medical humanitarian crisis.

With your support and in-kind donation, we were able to provide relief and assistance to doctors, medical staff, patients and IDPs in Ukraine. The shipment contained antibiotics, steroids, anti-inflammatory agents, ointment to treat rashes and more. Prior to the arrival of the shipment, regional health administrators were contacted to identify which types of medicine are most needed and where. Smaller care packages of basic first aid supplies were also prepared for volunteer EMTs and medics to be used during civilian evacuations on the frontlines.

Upon identifying critical need areas, shipments were prepared for the different batches and sent out with our logistics volunteers throughout Ukraine.

WHO WE ARE

Be an Angel was founded in 2015 in response to the Syrian, Afghan and Iraqi refugee crisis in Germany. It started simple, by opening the doors to our apartments and providing refugees who had nowhere to stay a place to sleep. We waited in line with people from three in the morning to get them registration documents. We went to courts to pressure the authorities with urgent applications to give the people what they were entitled to -- food, access to medicine, and a bed to sleep in. Since those humble beginnings, we have aided thousands of refugees who have arrived in Germany and continue to do so today.

When the Russian invasion of Ukraine began, our focus became concentrated on providing relief for the humanitarian crisis. We immediately jumped into action and by March 4th we were in Mykolaiv picking up the first bus of refugees.

Since then, we have grown rapidly to accommodate for this great challenge of helping the Ukrainian people. We joined forces with our U.S. counterpart Friends of Be an Angel and the Ukrainian organization Women's For Future. Together, we evacuate Ukrainians, especially the vulnerable—children, elderly, disabled & seriously ill. The partnership also delivers direct aid to Ukraine including food, clean water, medical equipment, supplies and medications, clothing, blankets and more—all the way to the front lines. Friends of Be an Angel was set up to give American individuals, foundations & companies the opportunity to support this extraordinary rescue and aid work on the ground in Ukraine during the Russian-led war and occupation. We have opened an office in Moldova and Odesa to facilitate the administration of evacuation and influx of humanitarian aid.

We invite you to join our efforts. Together we are stronger. Together we can help more people. Together we can be Angels.
